NEXUS Automotive International launches NEXUS Iberia to consolidate Spain and Portugal Markets

Geneva, 2026, April 30th – NEXUS Automotive International announces NEXUS Automotive Iberia, its 16th regional structure following the establishment of NEXUS India. The new entity will support new business opportunities across Spain and Portugal, a region that is a strategic priority offering strong potential in the globalised aftermarket sector.

Iberia's fragmented yet dynamic landscape offers an opportunity to unify local players, boosting their competitiveness, operational efficiency, and responsiveness to evolving customer demands. NEXUS Iberia will strengthen its regional presence and support local companies scaling to meet international standards.

NEXUS Iberia comprises six major spare parts distribution groups: AGR, ASER, HOLYAUTO, SERCA, URVI, and RECALVI PARTS - the latest to join the N! Community.

Recalvi's recent integration further strengthens the regional organisation, leveraging an already well-established network of leading Iberian players. Recalvi played an active role in launching NEXUS Iberia, driving the ambition to reinforce collaboration and competitiveness across the region.

This new regional structure aims to foster growth and collaboration to compete in a globalised market, enabling N! members to enhance their competitiveness, efficiency, and capacity to meet aftermarket demands.

N! Suppliers gain accelerated market access, enhanced local partnerships, and a structured platform for sustainable growth in Iberia.

Working closely with local members and partners, they will strengthen the Iberian N! Community, drive strategic growth, and create sustainable value. Their leadership ensures that N! Iberia's priorities align with the NEXUS Group strategy, reinforcing innovation, operational excellence, and long-term growth.

Gaël Escribe, NEXUS CEO said: “While NEXUS Automotive International has already established a strong presence in Spain and Portugal through its existing members, the recent integration of Recalvi has acted as a catalyst to formalise this collaboration under a unified regional structure.”
