

About Thundersoft

- Since its founding in 2008, Thundersoft has become a world-leading provider of mobile operating systems and smart device solutions for smartphone, tablet, IoT, automotive and enterprise markets. The company offers broad software and algorithm technologies, strategic partnerships with key semiconductor vendors and a global support network.
- Thundersoft is a valuable and trusted partner to customers worldwide aiming to build innovative and high-quality smart devices that can be launched into the market after short development times. Thundersoft's partners include industry-leading global companies such as Qualcomm, Intel, Microsoft, ARM, Samsung and Sony among many others.
- Headquartered in Beijing and listed on the Shenzhen Stock Exchange (SZ: 300496), Thundersoft has seven R&D centres in China and a global presence that extends to Japan, South Korea and the United States. The company generated revenues of 85 million Euros in 2015, and it currently employs around 3000 personnel.
- Some of the world's most prominent tech giants, including Intel (Intel Capital Corp.), Qualcomm (Qualcomm China Fund) and ARM Ltd., have contributed to the company's growth as previous funders and shareholders.
- Summary of offerings

- For more information, please visit www.thundersoft.com